Gless and Clark H. Green, a well-known Union men of Glasgow, were wonoded on our side, and one guerilla kliled and several wounded on the other. A meeting had been held by the citizens of the county of Fayette, to organize noder Order No. 107. Gen. Fisk was present, and addressed the meeting In advocacy of the obfects of the order, and in an appeal to the poople to make common cause in organizing ournment, a party of five or six citizens of Glasgow, one of them Clark H. Green, while riding quietly home, found themselves suidenly confronted by a party of twenty bushwhackers, who took them into the woods, a distance of two or three hundred yards from the read, and seated them on the ground while they consulted what to do with them. Shortly afterward Gen. Visk, rlding In a bnggy with Ben W. Lewis, and attended hy an ercort of tweety men, of Captaio Glaza's company, came along the road, and were nearing the place where the gnerillas wors concealed, when a woman living on the road, who had witnessed the capture of Green's party, came out and warned them of the dannmediately formed his men in lice, into the woods, and advanced the place where the rebels were hid. As he approached the spot he came la collision with the villalas, and a brisk fring, last rg several minutes, took place, reore of them mortally, and the flight of the ground. When the fight began the rebels told all the'r prisoners they might run, except Mr them instantly began firing at him. The gan sixed at Mr. Green's breast, at a distance of slx feet, suapped, three times in succession, and the prisone imped to his feet and ran. As he ran, the cape. Captain Glass was also wounded in the Sight, receiving three buckshot in his body. The cause of the rebels' special spite against Mr. Green was that he was Colouel of the 46th enrolled militia, and had been recruiting offierr for colored troops. Orim-visaged war has smoothed his wrinkled front And capers nimbly in a lady's chamber To the lascivious pleasings of a inte. Although the big rebel army was but a nost of Spirits summoned by the wand of apprehension from the "vasty deep" of official scals, there were certainly a few visible, palpable, tangible, and ble rebel troops pretty near Washington for a short time, and there was fighting, the actual flash, smoke, and pop f gnns. And this, we can readily understand, may prove a great thing for our Government and for our country's fame and destiny. The world has seen from the despatches, that the President of the United States and his Secretary of War rode out to be witnesses of the shooting, one of them taking his wife with him. Now if the President and Secretary have proved themselves such great military leaders, such transcendently wise controllers of armies, under all the dleadvantages of an entiro lack of either experience or observation in the field, what under heaven may we not confidently expect from them hereafter, now that their eyes have seen and their ears have heard, and that too at no very irrational distance, the actual sights and sounds of battle-none of your sham fights, mind you, but a fight in which the fellows on both sides fired bullets out of real guns! We must confess that we may have gramhled a little hitherto about the control exercised by the President and Secretary over the armies of the Lation, but who, ah who, shall dare to ntter a word of doubt or misglving hereafter? You? Or you? Or

You? Speak ont, whosver you may bel Mr. Llucoln and Mr. Stanton are now vet erars. They have been baptized with a sight of shocting. They may not have seen the one-tined pitchfork really at work, but doubtless they imagined all and considerably more than all. And now let the infernal rebei Confederacy look to itself! Let's have a day of Thankegiving.

ctand it, is, first, the charge that Governor Bramlette, in his recent letter explanatory of the failure of his effort to raise ten thousand troops for the term of six months, gives certain reasons additional to the reasons mentioned heretofore by the Inspector-General and by the Adjutant-General, and, scoondly, the charge that Governor Bramlette, in stating that "the provost-marshals and other reruiting agents were set actively to work to induce all the able-bodied negroes in such counties to run away and enlist, thus withdrawing from the growing crops the labor absolutely required to perfect and secure them," that "large farms have thus been wholly robbed of labor, and the crops now go to waste," that "the negroes have been made to believe that by volunteering they would not only obtain their own freedom but would receive four hundred dollars bounty," and "thirty days furlough with the privilege of going home and bearing away their families," and "that they would all remain in Ke tucky, and in the conrecof slx months the war would be over and they free," states what does not contain a shadow of truth. Such are the points of the first instalment of the Press's tirade. They are easily answered. The first amounts to nothing; and the other is false. As to the first, not only are the additional reasons in question consistent with the reasons previously mentloned by the Inspector-General and by the Adjutant-General, but the Press does not even deny that they are. In fact, they simply complete the explanation given by those gallant officers. So the point, as presented by the Press itself, amonats to nothing. As to the other point, the Press merely sets np its own authority against the authority of Governor Bramlette. For our part, we are perfectly willing thus to rest the case. We indeed should perform a supererogatory work. if we carried the matter further. And the period of high summer is not exactly the time for supererogatory work.

FROM GENERAL SHERMAN'S FRONT-REPORT-ED CAPTURE OF ATLANTA-JOE JOHNSTON RE-BEATING TO CEDAR BLUFF .- Wo learn from n officer whn left Gen. Sherman's front on Monday evening last, beyond the Chattaocchie river, that Joe Joheston was in full treat from Atlanta on Monday, and that herman's columns were in motion, and excted to occupy the city during the night. ady in sight of the city, and was meeting no opposition. HENRY COUNTY .-- Col. Jesse, with his gang of three hundred, is sgain on the rampage. He has ovacuated Henry county. The citizens again breaths free. They are under many obligations to Jesse and his cutthroat gang for so peacenbly retiring from their county. They are giad to be rid of their presence During their occupation of Henry, many of the citizens were relleved of purses, horses, &c. The guerillas appeared to have learned the art of stealing to perfection. We have been furnished with a very incompleta list of a part of the robberies committed. The house of Mr. Bryent, eight miles from New Castlo, was plundered. The drawers woro broken open and rifled of money and clothing. Two horses were stolen from the stable of Dr. Brent. Mr. R. D. Owen was invored with a call, and had his drawers turned "topey-turvy." They relioved him of his els, clothing, &c. Mr. McEiwain Danny received like vitits and like at ns. Two horses were stolen from a gen man at Eminence. Josse left word at the oll-gate, near New Castle, in regard to his fature intentions. The gate-keeper was charged to inform all "aoxious, inquiring friends" that he, the redoubtable Jesse, had one thans and race under his command, and that he would pres through Bloomfield the following day. Very kind in Jesse, indeed, to take such palas to inform the public in reard to his movements. We will endeavor to ciprocate the favor by being equally prompt to inform the people the day appointed for his execution, when he shall be caught, tried, and lawfully condemned by a miliitary commission. He says that he was down in Port Royal, Tenn., last week, and was in sight of a Federal forca, but, for prudential reasons, avoided a fight. We have good euthority for stating that Jesse's force does not number more than three hundred men. They are all indifferently armed, and would make a poor show in a fight. Fifty veteran cavalrymen, with good arms, could attack the thice hundred with perfect confidence of meeting with success. A well-directed charge would scatter the guerille force like sheep before a pack of hounds.

Lin's front to the military prisons North are manding a brigade, and severel line officers, four Union officers in retaliation. movements of our army on the Chattahoochle placed a large number of prisoners in our hends, and they are being hurried rapidly from the front to the rear. m Nashville are to the effect that several oaded with prisoners, sald to number three thousand, are on the way to this city. We presuma that they will be received in instalments ever the Nashville road, as our Milltory Prison is not large enough to accommodate so large a force. While Johnston is drawing Sherman on, and getting him just where he wants him, Sherman is making a few draws on Joe in the way of war mnteria's end men. A draw just to our liking, Joe! We hope it suits you, and that you will keep it up; for, in a few weeks more, according to the programme, your army wil have melted away like the covering of show upon the sunny hillside. It may well be said that Johnston and his army are on the search for summer retreats. It has been sevcral yours since the rebels have had a chance to fiee from August heats in the oppressive clime of the South to breathe the cooler air of the North, end feel the invigorating breezes of the great lakes for their hented brows and cheeks.
